

introducing

THE PETROPOLITANS

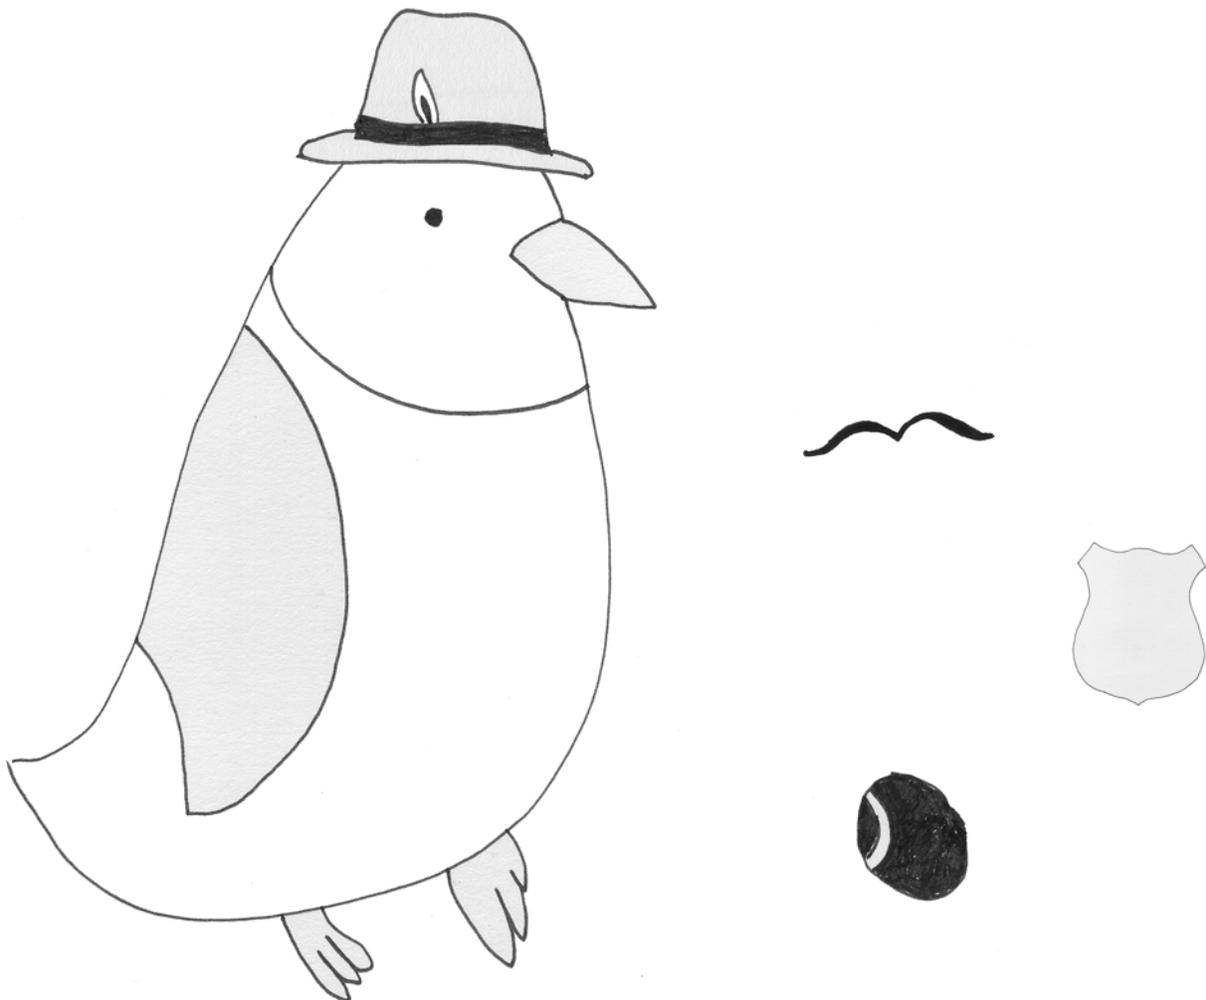

A series of New York City animal action figures, written and illustrated for Hasbro by Jake Lemkowitz.

COO ARCHER

PIGEON INVESTIGATOR

Detective Coo Archer is a licensed P.I. (Pigeon Investigator) with a taste for danger and half-eaten bagels. From his nest high in a cornice of St. Patrick's Cathedral, he looks out on the city he calls home. New York is loud, fast, and dirty: paradise for a pigeon like Coo. Whether he's on the trail of a missing squab or uncovering the criminal conspiracy behind a dried-up park fountain, Coo will go to any lengths to solve a case. Trouble always seems to find him. But as a master of disguise, and with his good luck pebble, Coo stays one flap ahead.

Coo Archer figure comes with: Detective Hat, Badge, Mustache Disguise Kit, Lucky Pebble.

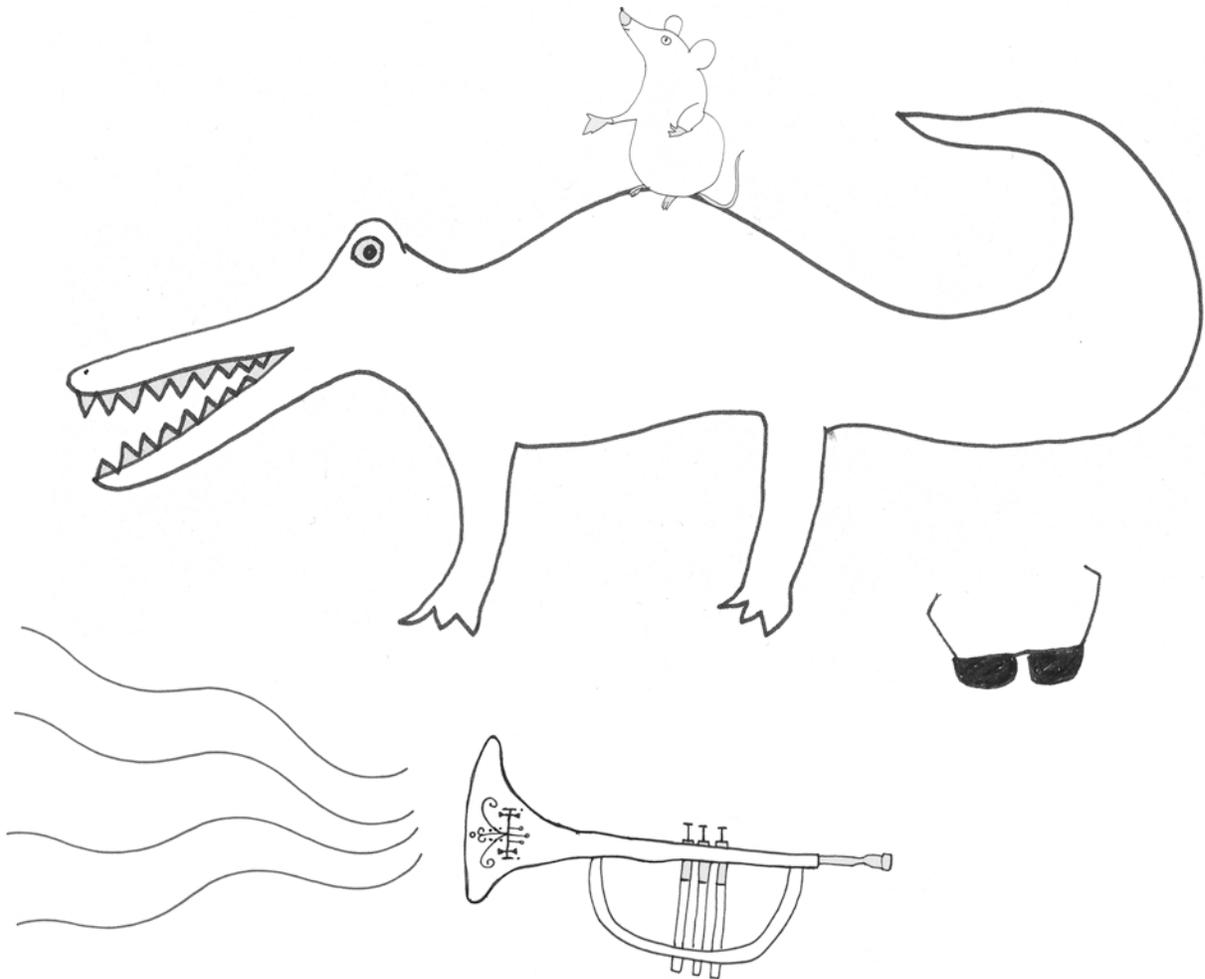

BENOIT

VOODOO JAZZ ALLIGATOR

Benoit is a gator on the prowl for jazz jam sessions and adventure on the high seas of the Manhattan sewer system. He was just a baby when he accidentally stowed away on a Louisiana steamboat bound for New York Harbor, and growing up in the city has given Benoit some serious chops. Not only does he have a mouth full of razor sharp teeth, but he blows the most hypnotic trumpet on this side of the East River. Benoit is accompanied by his faithful companion, a whiz-kid rat named Rufus. These two hipsters have been spotted climbing out of manhole covers across town, wherever the siren song of good music might lead them.

Benoit figure comes with: Light-Blasting Voodoo Trumpet, Extra-Dark Sunglasses, Rufus the Rat Figure.

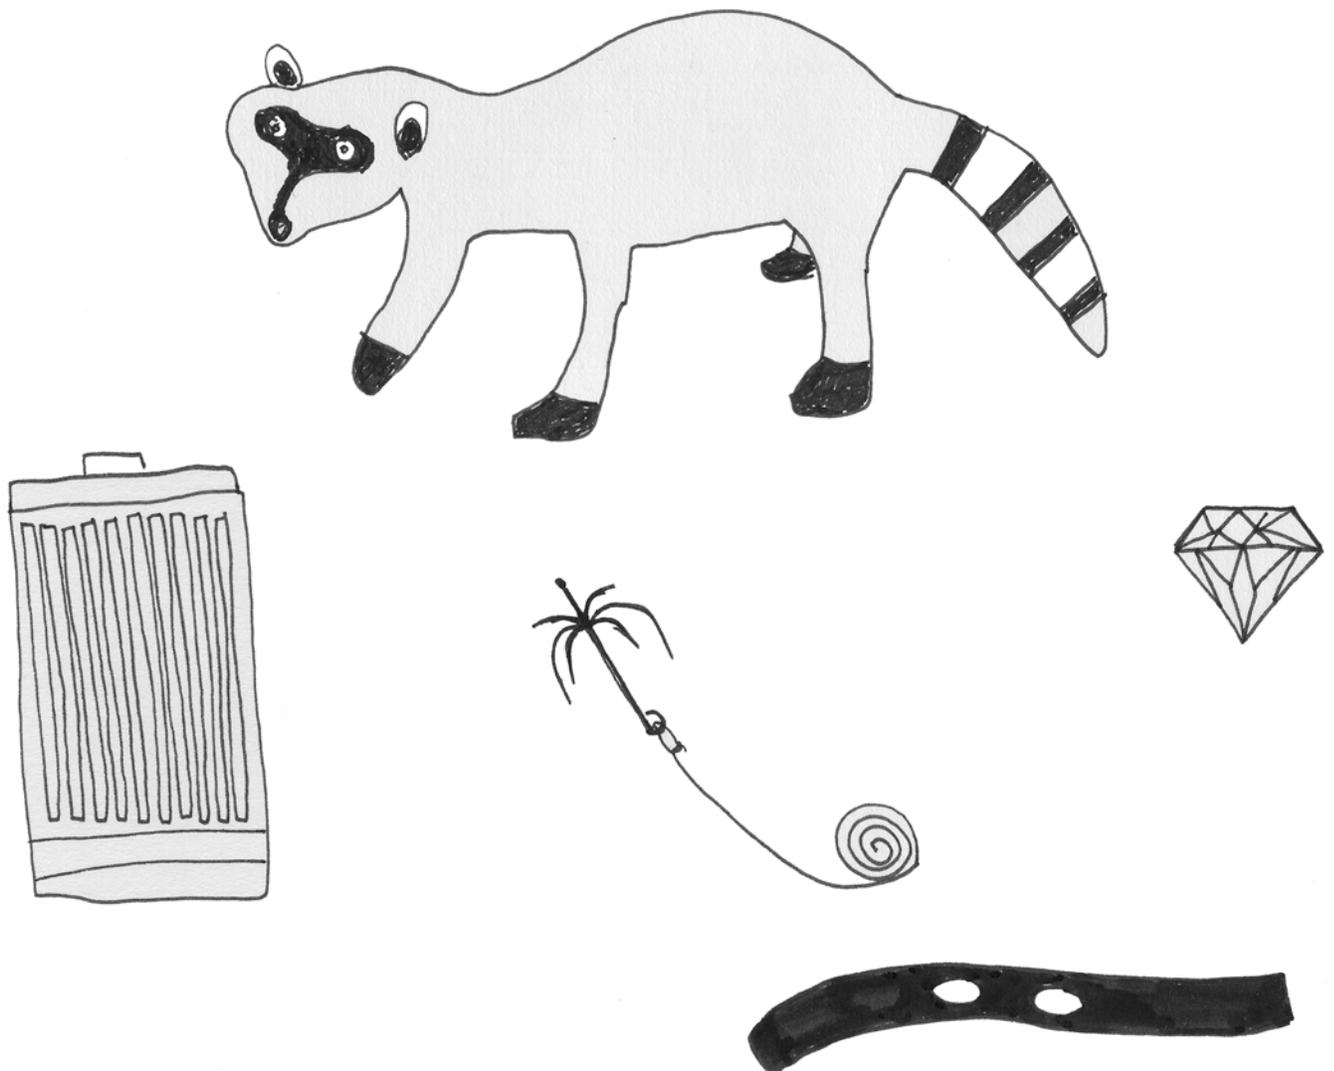

ROCCO RACCOON

GENTLEMAN THIEF

Rocco may be a crook, but this raccoon is still pure class from nose to tail. Raised in the garden of the Frick Museum on 5th Avenue, his taste in fine art is impeccable. His desire to add to his own collection is irrepressible. In his swank garbage can headquarters, he plans his next heist. Some may call it stealing. Rocco calls it relieving unappreciative uptowners of their excess possessions. There's no doorman too vigilant for him to sneak by, no apartment too high off the ground for him to reach. Only one thing makes Rocco tremble with fear: cats.

Rocco Raccoon figure comes with: Grappling Hook, Mask, Garbage Can Headquarters, Diamond.

SGT. SNIFTER

ANIMAL CONTROL

When Sgt. Snifter tears through traffic in his M.A.D. (Mobile Animal Detainmentment) van, no creature is safe. How did how this rogue animal control cop get so mean? Nobody knows. He spends his free time scheming against the turtles in Central Park. He thinks all seagulls are out to get him. He has never pet a dog. Worst of all is that Snifter believes he is a hero for chasing down critters of any kind, and tossing them in the pound. With his M.A.D. van's high-tech radar and top-mounted net gun, the deranged sergeant is a match for even the cleverest city animal.

Sgt. Snifter Figure comes with: M.A.D. Van with Firing Net Gun and Flashing Siren, Bucket of Fried Chicken.

