The Science of Safety

Your players count on you to be there for them every step of the way. It's our job to provide you with the products and resources to help keep them safe, healthy and hydrated.

Continuing Education

The Gatorade Sports Science Institute (GSSI) helps you earn continuing education credits with board-certified online tests authored by exercise, physiology, and sports nutrition experts.

- Register or Login to earn CE credits

Partnerships

As a founding NATA sponsor, Gatorade remains committed to helping the athletic training profession improve the quality and health care of athletes.
