“Terminal Illness And Serious Ailment Referral Program”

Patients with terminal illnesses and specific ailments are offered a referral service for renowned specialists of Traditional Chinese Medicine. This service will connect authorized doctors and physicians with patients to help treat, relax and offer alternative ideas for pain management. Those with cancer, diabetes, obesity, HIV, emphysema, and other potentially terminal illnesses are encouraged to receive treatment. Patient must cover transportation to and from China. In addition, if patient has his or her own referral via another source, the service will investigate the credentials of the specific doctor or physician. The referral service can also help recommend accommodations, and if the patient's trip coincides with other programs listed, group airfare rates may be accessible.
