

I BELIEVE

OUR CLOSETS SHOULD BE PLAYGROUNDS.

I believe a sweater should not cost more than your groceries. I believe that pink and green make gorgeous. I believe that fashion is not a members-only club. I believe a scarf is jewelry in fabric form. I believe overpriced clothing is so last year. I believe manners are always in style. I believe in the restorative powers of the perfect pair of heels. I believe we should live in the united states of fashion. I believe shoes should speak volumes at prices that whisper. I believe sometimes you need to eat dessert before dinner. I believe that family keeps you honest. I believe in high-impact accessories at a low-impact price. I believe “good quality” and “low price” can be best buddies. I believe fashion is not a luxury. It’s a right.
