"Our years of experience in using Command Retail has allowed us to successfully manage our storefront and E-Commerce sites, leading to a major increase in growth" said Ryan Vance, Internet Manager for Vance Outdoors. "The staff at Celerant has always been very willing to work with us to gain a better understanding of our business practices and propel the success of new ventures, like our online stores, not only giving us the ability to sell our retail products but also firearms online. Prior to working with Celerant's E-Commerce, we didn't have much of an online presence. Celerant brought us from $0 to multi-millions in just a few years, and we now have three successful websites. We look forward to the future of our partnership with Celerant to further expand our retail and online presence."
