Celeb Gossip

Hollywood goss

Each week our very own USA gossip monger will be bringing you the lowdown on the celebs across the pond!

Let's see, break-ups or hook-ups first?

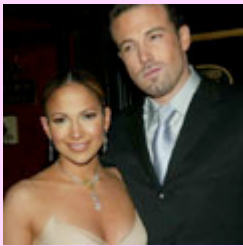

Break-ups:

Ashton Kutcher and Brittany Murphy, of course, then this week's surprise Cameron Diaz and Jared Leto. They split after four years; sources close to Diaz have been saying that Leto didn't treat her very well, refused to go to all the Charlie's Angels parties, etc. I guess he's really devoted to his "indie" image, eh?

Oh, here's a twist on the break-up...Britney Spears has been spotted on more than one occasion parking her car at ex-boyfriend Justin Timberlake's house at night, only to reclaim it the following morning.

Apparently, they're back to "trying to work things out," but want to keep the media out of it. Careful what you wish for...if the media didn't pay attention to their love lives, where would Brit-brit and Justin be?

On the brighter side of the coin, J.Lo and Affleck are rumoured to be planning a secret wedding in Kauai. 'Course how secret can it be now that the island is swarming with journalists?

Affleck's ex, Gwyneth, on the other hand, is still waiting for a ring over a month after Coldplay Chris supposedly popped the question. Apparently, Paltrow is worried that she is jinxed and that Chris will be the latest in a string of failed attempts at marriage. Maybe if the girl could manage to be alone for more than two weeks at a time, she could figure some of this out? I don't know, just a thought.
